Across the rocks
Just below the dam at silver lake
In Dover Delaware
There in the cool darkness under a big tree
Where it is peaceful
Just downstream from the waterfall,
I baited my hook and cast my line
Feeling that today is a good day to be alive just as a big sunfish
Swims up to my bait as a cool summer rain starts.

By Barry Wyatt